2023 EXHIBITION TOURS + WORKSHOP

BARN GALLERY

Art Farm | September 26 – November 2, 2023

A collection of over 100 works of art inspired by the farmlands of Yolo County including paintings, photography, ceramics, and mixed media. Students will see a captivating and rich variety of agricultural landscapes “and learn the importance of preserving and appreciating local farmlands.

The Artist in Critique | November 16 – December 7, 2023

8 women artists showcase a wide range of media including oil paintings, watercolor, ceramics, fiber art, paper sculpture, and assemblage. In their “critique group,” they build a sense of community, motivation, validation, and encouragement. This exhibit illustrates the importance of teamwork, and how positive and constructive feedback encourages creativity.

Uprooted: Reflections on Relocation and Resilience | March 14 – June 1, 2024

An exhibit that examines concepts of displacement and the power of the human spirit. The works include sculptures of habitats from around the world, sailing vessels, paintings, weavings, and photography.

GIBSON HOUSE

Pathways to Resistance | on view beginning March 14, 2024

In the mid-19th century, marked the beginning of the abolitionist movement and the women’s rights movement. Three key avenues for women to gain independence were access to education, voting rights, and freedom from restrictive clothing. This exhibition explores how women followed these pathways to find success and the opposition they were met with at every turn.

Permanent Collection

The Yolo County Historical Collection is comprised of objects from the 1830s - 1930s that illustrate early Yolo County living. The collection includes textiles, agricultural equipment, paintings, archival materials, ephemera, photographs, archaeological items, tools, ceramics, household items, furniture, and personal items.

WORKSHOP

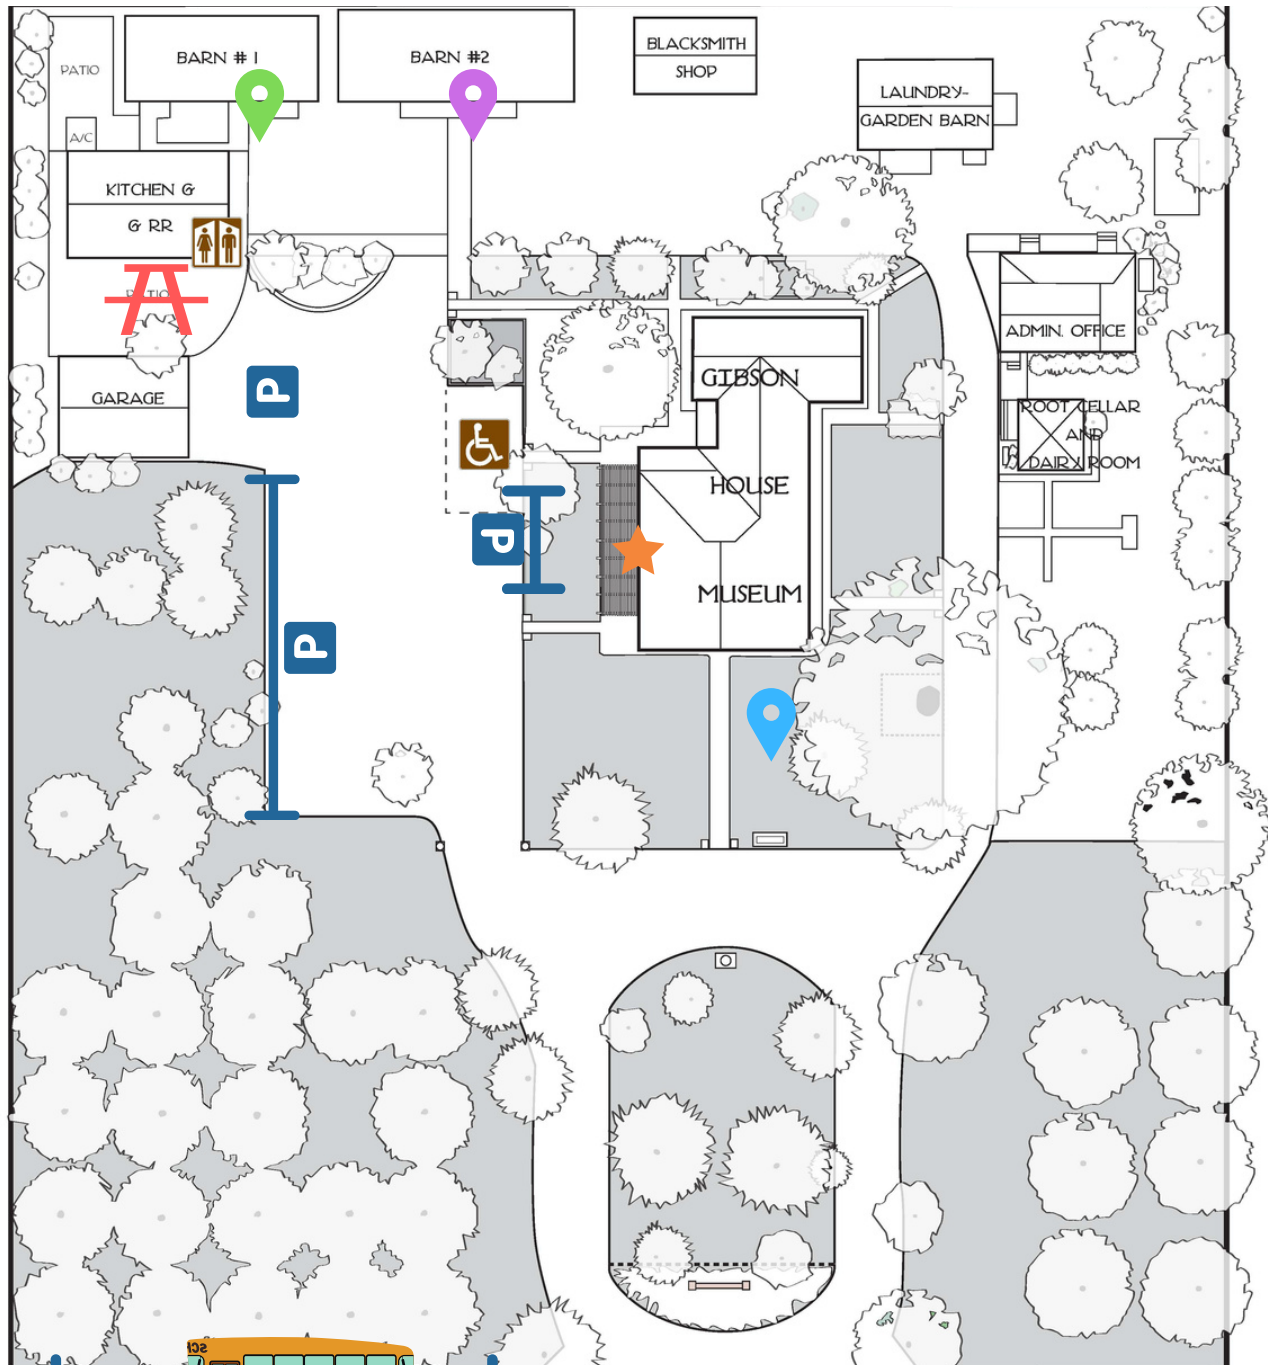

Art workshops are taught by YoloArts Professional Teaching Artists who develop and adapt to the skill level of each unique student group.

Lessons support hands-on arts engagements that will deepen student understanding of the current Barn Gallery exhibition on view.

All field trips will tour both the Barn Gallery and Gibson House. Enhance your field trip by adding an art Workshop !
